

Accel Workshop Series

Deliver the Best in Money Management Education

Providing periodic workshops for your members is a great way to support your mission of financial education, offering your members the opportunity to learn financial applications to real-world struggles. The workshops, designed to cover a broad range of financial topics, provide your credit union a way to differentiate itself from other financial institutions. Each of the ten workshops can be presented in a number of different ways.

Delivery Options

On-site Workshops

Have an Accel trainer conduct an on-site financial education workshop for members and staff

Train the Trainer

A two-day training program designed to train credit union employees to present a workshop and return to your credit union with the knowledge, skills and materials necessary to use Accel workshops

Purchase Off-the-Shelf Materials

If your credit union has a trained presenter, you can purchase the Accel workshop materials "off-the-shelf" and be ready to conduct a financial education workshop on a regular basis. Whether the workshop is for a small group at a "lunch and learn" session or a large group at a 2-hour seminar, the content can be easily adapted to meet the needs of the audience. You'll receive a CD that contains a variety of materials to help you get the most out of your workshop.

Purchase Workshop Booklets

Purchase the study manual to complement your existing workshop content, to hand out to members or to begin designing your own workshop

Workshop Topics

Whether it's learning how to save for a future purchase, dealing with a layoff or navigating the path to homeownership, the Accel Workshop Series provides useful information for every financial situation.
